Describing the World Your Home Lives In

Please provide the following information regarding the access your home has to local attractions and conveniences. Location is a top criteria for a potential home buyer and an "insider's" description of what makes your home's location especially advantageous will help potential buyers make a more informed decision. No one knows your property better than you—this input will contribute to your customized, home-showcasing marketing materials. (Feel free to write on the back, too!) Thank you for your time!
