

A business may grow by giving services away for free but it cannot thrive in the long run giving away everything. I provide free assistance to people trying to sell their home “by owner” knowing in the grand scheme of things that helping people never goes out of fashion. Good living is one reason, below are five reasons representing good business.

What do I get from helping someone sell their home themselves?

1. A reputation for being helpful, not threatening and negative.
2. Referrals to your friends who want a REALTOR® to help with sale or purchase because going it alone is not for everyone.
3. Perhaps you’ll use my services in the future
4. Names of people who want to buy a home, have seen yours or called on it but it doesn’t quite suit their needs.
5. A better understanding of the whole market area and the people
