President Obama Visits a Small Business at Our Industrial Park in Apex, NC!

John Powell, Executive Director for KW Commercial/Powell Properties, Inc based in Cary, NC is honored that President Barack Obama chose to visit a small business, WestStar Precision, located in an Industrial Park and John has listed and overseen the development of for more than 12 years. Pinnacle Park is a 165 acre Industrial/Office park strategically located in Apex, North Carolina where more than 60 businesses are currently located and John has assisted most of those businesses with their relocation over the past decade. The President chose to visit WestStar Precision, a company John did assist in their purchase of a new facility, because he said WestStar is “a perfect example of the type of small business that will benefit from the proposed legislation” he’s now traveling around the country to promote. As the Presidential motorcade left the manufacturing facility for a speaking engagement at North Carolina State University in Raleigh, North Carolina you could sense this stop by the Leader of the Free World is only the beginning of many visits to entrepreneurial based businesses in our country.
